The Herald correctly observes: "The serious aspect of this bank failure lies not so much in the occurrence itself as that it shows that the old ulcer of commercial rottenness has not yet been probed to the bottom." The Times remarks: "The enormous fall which has taken place in the money value of almost all descriptions of properly has thus far resulted in surprisingly few b nk fallures."

THE COTTON MARKET yesterday had less stimulating news to cheer it; the markets were quiet and easy, but with-out change of quotations. The conse-quence was more easiness in our marsets, which tended in favor of buyers; there was no decline, but the inside figure was more prevalent. The demand was good, and the greater complaisance of sellers increased the sales. Experiers again took over one hell the cotton sold; speculators took 400 bales, which was more than on any previous day of this week. The London cotton regular weekly circular, issued by the Liverpool cot-ton brokers' association, has the following comments: "The increased business of last week has been followed by an extensive demand throughout the present. and though the tone was quieter to-day Thursday), prices have advanced considerably. American descriptions have been in very large request, and prices advanced from id to id.; Ses-Island cotton has been in fair demand at steady rates, except for lower grades of Fiorida, which are a half penny lower. In futures transactions have been large; prices rose fully 5-16d, but the market has been quieter for the last two days, and quotanons are now only one farthing above last week." Quotations at the Memphis cotton exchange ware as follows:

THE PRODUCE 'CHANGE had no animation, the general demand was so singgish that any approach toward business was out of the question. Corn was less readily taken than from the inquiry made after it a few days ago might have been expected. The lots wanted must have been small, for the two thousand sacks that have been on the market the last day or two are not taken with any spirit. Sales were 300 sacks at 47c, and 100 sacks at 48c; also 300 sacks of ear-corn sold at 45c. Outs are neglected and only peor prices can be obtained, below what holders regard as their value; there were sales of 50 sacks of inferior at 371e; 50 sacks mixed at 41 c with privilege of taking the lot; fine white oats were offering at 45c.
